BUILDING FOR YEAR ESTABLISHES RECORD TOTALS $6,305,971

A NEW YEAR WISH

THE NEW YEAR—an opportunity to turn a clean page; to throw aside the tangled fabric we have been weaving and begin again; the time to look back and review our mistakes, our misdeeds; to take the lessons that they taught us and apply them in the coming year. What an opportunity! This chance to begin again; to be given a day on which to make an ending of the old and a beginning of the new in all our social and business relations.

Human beings will always make mistakes, but "hope springs eternal in the human breast," and when we come to the milestone of the New Year, we feel the road from here on is going to be smoother and easier going, that we will avoid the rough places that were our undoing in the past. We have had trouble and sorrows and we have made mistakes in the year just passing but we always feel that the year that is beginning is going to be happier and better.

May we all profit by the mistakes of the past year and may we make and keep New Year resolutions that will make the world happier and better in the year 1923.

May the happiness you anticipate in the New Year be realized a hundred fold is the wish of The Glendale Evening News for everyone who reads this.

LARGE NUMBER OF HOMES ARE ERECTED IN CITY DURING 1922, FAR EXCEEDING PAST FIGURES

Final Mark Exceeds That Established Last Year by More Than Million and Quarter; More Than Twice That Set in 1920

GLENDALE may celebrate New Year's day with the assurance that the year just passing has been a banner year in the record of its prosperity. Official records at the city hall closed at noon today with $6,305,971 worth of building permits to the credit of the community. December closes with $487,521 worth of permits on the books.

According to H. C. Vandewater, superintendent of the municipal building department, there is no refuting the fact that Glendale continues to grow. He points with pride to the fact that most of the permits issued during the past year have been for new homes—the bulwark of the American nation.

The total for this year's building activity exceeds last year's record of $5,099,201 by more than a million and a quarter.

It is more than twice as large as the total for 1920, which was $3,137,269, and is almost equal to the totals for the entire twelve years previous to 1919.

Permits issued yesterday include the following:

"We have always been interested in Glendale," he continued, "and have been watching its growth for some time. We have secured a good site and expect to install the very best equipment in the plant. We expect to have a plant that will be a credit to the community."

HARDING PARDONS I. W. W. MEMBERS

Eight Prisoners to Receive Liberty But Subject to Deportation Laws

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Eight members of the I. W. W. convicted for violations of the national espionage laws and now serving varying sentences in federal prisons, were extended executive clemency today by President Harding on the eve of the New Year. Those receiving clemency are the so-called "political prisoners" in whose behalf an unremitting campaign has been conducted for the last three years.

The men were pardoned outright by President Harding. All those released were identified with the "Big Bill" Haywood cases.

Those to be released and the sentences they are now serving follow: J. M. Azura, twenty years; G. J. Bourc, ten years; Peter Green, ten years; Charles L. Lambert, twenty years; Harry Lloyd, five years; Bert Lorton, ten years; Sam Scarlett, twenty years; Archie Sinclair, ten years.

Subject to Deportation Attorney-General Daugherty, announcing the pardons, said all of the prisoners are subject to deportation. The president commuted the sentence of each one to the term already served, upon condition that they be deported and never return to the United States, Mr. Daugherty said.

The president imposed the further condition that if any one of them does return the commutation shall thereupon become null and of no effect. He would be apprehended and returned to prison to serve the remainder of his sentence.

Daugherty said the prisoners are to be allowed sixty days in which to arrange their personal affairs before their deportation. They will be required to give bond to the secretary of labor to surrender at a given time and place specified in the orders of deportation.

BUSINESS METHODS

THOUGH not established for material gain or any secular purpose, the church is a business institution, and, to be successful, must be conducted by business methods. While founded on eternal principles, the modern church is conducted along business lines.

The church is the oldest business in existence. Founded nearly two thousand years ago, it is still on the job. Business men come and go, business houses flourish and fail, but the church goes on. No business institution could exist so long without some special merit, some purpose beyond that of making money.

The church is a factory. It takes any kind of material and turns out a superior product. It takes crude material, inferior material, badly damaged material, and turns out manhood and womanhood. "Not always," you say. It is true, there are failures, but they are not due to the church or its machinery, but to the material itself. There are enough successes to prove this.

The church manufactures hope, faith, moral courage, optimism, cheer, clean living and all those principles that go to make the world a happier place.

The churches of Glendale, collectively, give Glendale its name, "A City of Homes." Individually, you may never have been influenced by the church, but if you live in Glendale or in any other enlightened community, the influence of the church is something you cannot get away from.

UNIVERSAL AUTO LICENSES ASKED

Congressman Curry Urges Amendment to Make All Motor Plates Valid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Reciprocity between all states of the United States as well as the District of Columbia in the matter of automobile licenses will be sought in an amendment to be proposed to the pending agriculture appropriation bill, it was announced by Representative Charles F. Curry, Republican, California.

In the rush to complete consideration of the bill in the house before the Christmas holidays, the proposal was allowed to go over, but Representative Curry stated that he would take it up with members of the senate appropriations sub-committee that will handle the measure. He is hopeful that he can interest them in the wisdom of the amendment, and confident that if the bill comes back to the house with the proposition included, the house will accept it.

Proposes Amendment

Representative Curry's idea is that the reciprocity can be brought about through an amendment to the section appropriating $29,300,000 for state aid in road construction. The proposed amendment would provide that no allotment should be made from the federal road fund to any state which did not extend reciprocity in motor licenses to all other states and the District of Columbia. As all states have been getting millions of dollars from the national government for road construction, he does not believe any of them would give up this aid by refusing to grant reciprocity.

Success for Representative Curry's plan would be of great benefit to motorists over the country who suffer from friction existing between some states that refuse to honor one another's licenses.

Pointers Here for Parking Your Car

If the car is left in a precarious position, it is best to use the parking lights even if the local ordinance does not require you to do so.

When you see a desired parking space ahead, hurry along to it. If you take your time, someone will slip into the space while you are prepared to back up.

Leave ample room between the front of your car and the machine ahead when parking, for the motorist who parks behind you will invariably run his car as close as possible to yours.

Autos in Canada

Canada has 500,000 automobiles and trucks, or more than twice the number registered in France.

Too Many Persons Operating Autos While Under Influence of Liquor; Campaign on to Stop Abuse Necessary, Is Belief Expressed

SHOULD there be a more severe penalty than at present for motorists who operate an automobile under the influence of liquor? That there is a strong sentiment for a relentless warfare on such motorists growing in this community is a report just issued by officials of the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Some definite consideration should be given to this question at the present time, say the club officials. The judges of the police court say that about 80 per cent of the reckless driving charges heard by them involve the operation of an automobile by a person under the influence of liquor, but, that little, if any, proof of this fact is offered.

And, strong as it may seem, it is the consensus of opinion of those who have had experience of the working of the law regarding this question that it is too severe. Juries seem reluctant to convict offenders when the penalty is so heavy, and judges say that more people would be convicted if the penalty were less severe. As a matter of fact the statutes of California make the operation of an automobile, while under the influence of liquor, a serious offense and provide that one convicted of such an offense may be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year, or that he may be imprisoned in the state prison for not less than one, or more than three years, or that he may pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5000.

It is true that there are too large a number of persons operating autos while under the influence of liquor and it is apparent that Automobile Club officials are seriously considering the matter at this time.

Double Motor Car Is Shown in Paris

An automobile was exhibited in a recent show in Paris with two motors and two driving shafts, totaling 22 horsepower. The engines have four forward speeds, giving eight speeds in all. For the 10-h. p. engine there is a self-starter. This 10-h. p. motor starts the 12-h. p. when it is required.

Trucks Save Time For U. S. Farmers

Ninety per cent of the farmers who responded to a survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture state that the factor of time saving is the greatest advantage of trucks over horse-drawn vehicles. Even on short hauls the motor truck requires only about half the time needed to make the same trip by wagon.

Big Reduction in Insurance Planned

Automobile underwriters in the United States have promised a 20 per cent reduction in automobile insurance if a method can be perfected of numbering engines and frames in such a manner that they cannot be changed by the thief.

To Cover Brass

Before attempting to paint over polished brass the metal should first be scoured with a mixture of salt and vinegar to remove all grease, after which the surface should be washed with hot soapsuds and wiped dry with a clean rag.

Cause of Pounding

A deep, heavy pounding is caused by a too-much advanced spark, overheated cylinders, over-advanced timer or particles of carbon in the cylinder, or ignition chamber becoming overheated.

Causes Accidents

When overtaking another automobile on the road, pass to the left and do not pull over to the right until entirely clear of the car. The purpose of this is to prevent this dangerous practice of "cutting in" which has been the cause of many accidents.

Gear Overheating

When it is necessary to employ the low gear for a considerable period it is possible to obviate the overheating that would ordinarily result by keeping the mixture in the leanest possible condition.

Give Hand Sign as Well as Car Signal

Motorists who use the automatic "slow" and "stop" signals on the rear of their cars should not neglect to use the hand signal as well when about to turn either to the right or the left.

Here's Good Advice For Auto Drivers

Never have any person or bundle in your lap while operating. A motorist who drives without lights, or with only one light, is dangerous on the highway. Any driver while teaching another person to operate a car, should keep off busy thoroughfares. It is better to lose a few minutes than your life. Slow down if you cannot see where you are going. The man who permits a car to be used on the highways with defective brakes has no regard for human life.

Record Runs Made By Two German Cars

Two German automobiles recently completed a 300-hour run in Berlin, which is said to be the world's non-stop and endurance record. The only interruptions were permitted for eight tire changes, and one short pause to drain off water which had collected in the gasoline tank during a rainstorm. Each machine carried four chauffeurs who worked in five-hour shifts during the twelve and one-half-day run. One machine used 410 gallons of gasoline and the other 450.

Use Left Hand When Cranking Your Motor

When it is necessary to crank an engine by hand, use the left hand, and keep the thumb on the same side of the handle as the fingers, in case of a backfire the handle will spin backward. The left hand being weak, the handle flies out of it without doing any harm. Using the right hand, with its stronger grip, the driver's head is likely to be thrown against the radiator, and the hand is more apt to be hit by the revolving crank.

Waldon Helps Probe Of U. S. Gas Tax

DETROIT, Col., Dec. 30.—S. D. Waldon, president of the Detroit Automobile club, has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the American Automobile association to investigate the fairness of the proposed tax and report at the semi-annual meeting held January 15-16 at Jacksonville, Florida.

Cause Lost Power

A worn condition of the different working parts of the motor is one of the principal reasons for lost power, because the explosive force partially escapes before the exhaust valve naturally opens.

Careful of Doors

When getting in or out of an automobile do not bear any weight on the doors. These are not made to carry the weight of a person.

AUTO CLUB PUTS UP MANY SIGNS

Coming of Winter Results in Number of Detours Being Necessary

Winter sign posting is at its height now throughout this part of the state by the sign posting department of the Automobile Club of Southern California in preparation for the arrival of thousands of visiting cars in the spring months.

Five trucks of the club are now engaged in various counties of the southern part of the state putting up new signs and renewing the signs which have been weatherworn or defaced by pot hunters who think that a road sign is put up for a target and not for a direction marker. Work is to start early in the year of the resigning of the inland route as far north as the Fresno county line. The club sign posting department will also patrol all roads in the vicinity of Pasadena during the Tournament of Roses and the football game on January 1.

The automobile club has established a national record in sign posting activity, now maintaining 93,749 signs in Southern California and on transcontinental routes leading to this section of America. Included in this vast number of signs are 2000 safety warning signs and 100 electric flashing signals throughout this territory.

Engine Power Faked By Lowering Gear

The power of an engine is often faked by means of gearing it low at the rear axle. When buying a car it is wise to find out what the reduction ratio is. If the reduction is very low a comparatively light engine will pull considerable weight uphill in "high" because the car is really not in high gear. If the engine is of large dimensions and geared very low it will perform very beautifully on hills and will have long life, but it will be a glutton for gas and will not usually give more than sixty miles per hour speed. If the engine is of small dimension and geared low it will perform well enough on hills for a time and will be economical on gas, but it will wear out quickly and will not develop speed.

How to Determine Trouble of Motor

When the motor fails to start, first try the spark plugs on the cylinder head, and crank the engine to see if the spark is all right. Then go to the carburetor, taking off the float chamber top, and see that it is up to the level. Afterward see that the gasoline gets to the cylinder by opening a petcock. If there is gasoline in the float chamber and the cylinders get little or no gas, the trouble is between the float and the cylinders. That may be in the nozzle, the throttle or the valves. Much air leaking often stops the flow of gas into the cylinders. Stuck valves, or valves out of time, will give the trouble. There are only three systems to watch—valve system, ignition system and carburetion system.

Save Brakes, Avoid Big Gasoline Waste

A common fault which cuts down the gasoline mileage is the excessive use of brakes. The needless pressing of the brakes only serves to make the motor use more energy in pulling against this contracting force. The brake should be used to slow the car down when it is necessary, and the driver should watch his road so that the car will slow down of its own momentum, which in the great majority of cases can be done without the use of the brakes.

Direct Motorists By Various Colors

Poles are banded along each route of the New Jersey State highway system to correspond to the colors indicating the direction of the routes:

Red shows that it lies east and west.

Yellow tells you that it takes a diagonal course northwest and southeast.

Brown indicates that it takes a diagonal course northwest and southwest.

Blue on the posts or signs indicates that the road is running north and south.

Ruts in Road Are Help to Motorists

When planning a garage, especially if the door is narrow, construct two ruts on the driveway, the exact width of the wheels. These ruts will always keep the car straight, regardless of the experience of the driver.

Care of Terminals

Corroded terminals should be first scraped and then cleaned with a strong solution of washing soda. After the corrosion has been removed and the terminals dried, grease the parts well with cup grease or vaseline.

7,000,000 Cars Can Be Used in U. S.

Statisticians of the automobile industry in the United States assert that the automobile-buying public in this country can absorb 7,000,000 passenger cars, in addition to the 10,000,000 now in operation. This is based on the closest survey of the field, in which is shown conclusively that apparent incomes in cash are by no means the measure of actual incomes.

Chalmers Six Brings Party From New York To Glendale; Needs No Repairs On Journey

Greeting The Evening News readers in the above picture is a party of former New Yorkers, who have shown excellent judgment both in the selection of a new home city and of the automobile that brought them on their trans-continental journey, for they are now residents of Glendale, and a Chalmers Six brought them from New York to this city.

The party was composed of Mrs. Frances Grant, Miss Flora Kilpatrick, Edward Grant and J. S. Lynn. They were accompanied west by two other parties, both driving more costly cars, but the Chalmers was the only car of the three that made the trip without breaking any part and without requiring mechanical adjustments of any nature.

In addition to its four passengers the Chalmers carried 1,000 pounds of luggage. Mrs. Grant and her party were so highly elated over the performance of the car that during their first day in Glendale Edward Grant called upon Anders & Halfhill, local Chalmers dealers, to express their appreciation of the high quality of the car which made possible such a pleasant trip.

Autos Follow Hues Of Clothes, Claim

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Car colors will follow clothes in 1923. Blues and fawn hues will predominate and wheels and tires will be much smaller.

This was predicted at the Grand Central palace here today, where preparations are in order for the national automobile show, opening January 6.

The show will reveal more cars than have been shown at any previous exhibition. Every attempt has been made to keep the new models secret.

Paris and New York modes in gowns have been studied in working out car color schemes, and in a number of cases Parisian and American interior decorators have lent their talents to the creation of limousine interiors. Wall space in the larger limousines for etchings and small paintings is said to be a new wrinkle.

Problem Not Difficult

"This will not be a difficult problem. Ninety per cent of all the motor cars manufactured, are being made by fifteen manufacturers. The remaining 10 per cent are being made by 100 manufacturers. I have been in numerous cities of this country where from six to ten automobile dealers would be able to supply the volume of motor transportation for that community and find that there are anywhere from ten to thirty dealers, all with a tremendous overhead and all trading their shirts off.

"The truth of the matter is and it might just as well be said now as any other time, there are too many factories and too many so-called dealers in the business and the public is paying for this economic waste.

"The automobile dealer must pay cash for all merchandise he buys from the factory and 90 per cent of his sales to customers are on time. Anywhere from 70 to 85 per cent of his total sales in—

Solder Both Ends Of Ignition Wires

To insure a firm contact and prevent wires breaking off, every ignition wire should have a terminal soldered at each end. If the terminal breaks off, be very careful in fastening wires, as a single strand of wire touching another metal part may ground the current, thus preventing the ignition system from working or ruining the storage battery.

Magnetized Screw Driver Invaluable

A screw-driver that is magnetized is a great convenience for anyone working about the car. This tool will pick up bolts, nuts, screws or other metal objects that have been dropped in inaccessible places. All that is necessary to magnetize a screw-driver is to hold it close to the dynamo for a few minutes, until it has become charged.

NASH MOTORS HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Quarterly Statement From Company Just Received By E. B. Sutton

A report of the Nash Motors Company for the third quarter of the fiscal year, comprising the months of June, July and August, has just been received by E. B. Sutton, of the Glendale Nash Sales, local Nash dealers. The report says in part:

"Retirement of $3,500,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock on February 1, next, will leave the 54,699 shares of common stock the only outstanding capital liability, there being no mortgage or funded debt. Except for current items, Nash Motors has no outstanding indebtedness whatever; it owes no bank a dollar on borrowed money and Nash dealers readily understand that absence of interest obligations—an item of cost so familiar to the average manufacturer—means with Nash Motors a correspondingly lower overhead.

"The Nash treasury now holds in cash and its equivalent in government securities between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. Its plants and equipment in Kenosha and Milwaukee, all entirely free from debt, are excelled by those of no other manufacturer.

"These facts explain in part perhaps why Nash Motors is able to produce the car it does at the price asked."

OVERLAND DEALER HAS BIG DISPLAY

Willys-Knight 'Coupe Supply Running Behind, Says George T. Smith

A complete display of Willys-Knight and Overland cars is being exhibited over the holidays by George T. Smith, local Willys-Knight and Overland dealer, 228 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Smith reports that the only model that he is short of for deliveries is the Willys-Knight coupe. He says the demand for the latter car is much greater than the supply, even though the factory has increased its output 600 per cent this year.

Two of the car types being featured by Mr. Smith this week are the Willys-Knight roadster and coupe. The roadster, which has the same seating capacity as the coupe, is becoming very popular with the trade, Mr. Smith asserts. "The seat backs," he says, are tilted in European fashion, so that one sits not bolt upright, but restfully in a natural easy position. One sits on the seat, not on top of it. The roominess of this Willys-Knight roadster makes as quick appeal as its low-slung appearance on the road.

Dirt Roads Increase Gasoline Consumed

According to tests in the problem of pavement traction, gasoline consumption by motor vehicles is increased in traveling over a dirt road. Concrete highways show the least resistance to traction in terms of miles per gallon.

Take in Only Auto That Has Ready Market Is Advice Given to Dealers

(Continued From Page 3) volve a used car trade in and unless the dealer can acquire this used car at a price low enough to make a profit he is trying to row upstream without oars.

Must Move Quickly
"Used cars must be moved mainly on price, if they are to be moved quickly. The price cannot be too high, for immediately this is done the customer is attracted to a new car of a lower new list price and the used car goes begging.

"There is no particular reason why the dealer should be the goat in taking a used car off the hands of the original buyer who made a mistake. If the buyer selected the wrong car let him pay for his mistake. There is no necessity for you as a dealer to do it. If the owner of that car wants one of your new vehicles let him leave his old car with you to be sold for him at the best price obtainable on the market—but get his order for your new car before you make this kind of an agreement with him."

FORD DELIVERIES SET HIGH RECORD

Factory Sales for November 1922 Total 106,327; Twice 1921 Mark

Deliveries of Ford cars and trucks to retail buyers during the month of November totalled 106,327, according to a statement just received by Jesse E. Smith, local Ford distributor. This is a new high sales record that has never before been approached by the company at this season of the year, the statement says.

During the month of November, 1921, the sale of Ford cars and trucks totalled slightly more than 58,000. The statement says further:

"For eight consecutive months, beginning with April 1 of this year, retail deliveries have exceeded 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks each month; the accumulated total for the first eleven months of 1922 being approximately 1,200,000. While the company points out that it is not unusual for Ford retail sales to exceed the 100,000 mark during the spring and early summer months when the demand is at its peak, the manner in which business has held up throughout the balance of the year is without precedent."

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THOSE SOUR FUSSY PEOPLE?

A woman wants me to write about "the sour, fussy people who never like to have you bring a child into their houses, and if you are fussing at them all the time for fear of their precious furniture."

I don't know who my Letter Friend is, but I have a feeling that I have met her prototype.

The prototype lives in our neighborhood—doubtless there is one in yours, too. She has three small children. If she goes anywhere to call or spend the day she usually takes one or two of them with her.

If a caller brought a little monkey and let it loose in her hostess' home no one would blame the hostess for objecting. Yet a monkey would do no more harm than an undisciplined child often does. I happened to be calling somewhere one day when this woman was spending the day with her youngest, a girl of 5 years. While the mother talked the child tottered around the room examining this, picking up that, saying: "What's this?" "What's that for?" "Why do you have that on your desk?" "Can I start the music box?" "Why don't you light the fire?" "Can I go out in the kitchen and see if I can find Roger?" (The dog who had precipitated fire on seeing the visitors were).

In the few minutes I was there she had pushed a chair back against the bookcase so that she barely missed breaking the glass

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Doctor:

I followed the directions which you published in our paper and I have lost 5 pounds since spring. Have just now adjusted my dress form from 44 to 38 which is just right now. To say I am happy about it would not express my gratefulness to you. If I should tell you all I think of you, you would feel so immense that the elevator might will say this much, however, that until you told that cockroach story I believed every word you said. Here's to you and all the F. F. F.'s, who are approaching T. T. T.-ness.

Most sincerely, Your slave, B.

My Dear B:

That cockroach story certainly was an imagination stretch, but it was true for it was given as a case report in the Journal of the American Medical Association. It was a lesson about the care of the ears that is very much worth while. No one should accept gradually increasing deafness or any other bad condition of the ears without having it investigated by an ear specialist.

I know the joy you experienced in having that extra adjustment from 44 to 38 because I did the same myself once upon a time.

I give these testimonial letters very often because they are the means of bringing others into the fold. And don't any of you ever think they are not bona fide, because they are.

You understand, I am so interested in this reducing question on account of the cosmetic side of it. The reason I lay great stress

BEAUTY CHATS

LITTLE IM PROVEMENTS

This is what Marie Louise did for herself when she left home for her very first visit to her cousin Margaret—a visit lasting several weeks and crowded with frivolous events like parties and shopping and matinees. Marie Louise, we must mention first, was 18 (her cousin was 20) and had lived in a little town where everyone knew her so well she never thought it worth her while to "fix up" for any of them.

She spent the evening of her arrival observing her pretty and sophisticated cousin. Clearly, there were many things wrong about herself, she decided, and she spent some time making notes of them.

Next day she had Margaret took her to a beauty shop where she had a manicure and a pedicure, carefully watching the operations, which would keep her own nails as pink and polished as her cousin's. She had her hair dressed, too, and had her hair dressed becomingly, asking the girl who did it to show her how. She spent recklessly of her carefully saved allowance, but she had a purpose, and powder, cleansing cream, nail polish and such things now seemed to her, not expensive, but investment.

She bought a pair of tweezers and pulled out a few hairs that she thought above her lip and that spoiled the otherwise pretty arch of her eyebrows. That helped a lot. She had her shoes carefully polished and bought a new pair of gloves on the way home. She thought she might even get a dye and tint the ends of her eyelashes, which were really longer and thicker than Margaret's, but pale so they didn't show up so well.

By such tiny and inexpensive means, she quite made herself over for the frivolous time ahead of her.

Dolly D.:—I am sorry that I cannot suggest a place for you to sell the switch. The hair is an unusually fine shade of grey, so you should not find it hard to dispose of if you know of any one who would sort of thing. Most of the hair that is made up into switches is imported and the trade is so well supplied with it that there is no need for any domestic hair of this kind.

Mrs. John J. T.:—An excellent treatment for the complexion is to cleanse it first by using a cleansing cream. Remove this with

The CHALMERS SIX

Invites Comparison

With automobiles, as with everything else, "There is nothing great, or small, save by comparison."

The more careful the comparison, the more fully will Chalmers superiority be revealed.

You may invest a little more than you expected, because you find in the Chalmers so much greater value, at so slight a difference in price.

Or you may spend less, because all that you ask or receive from more costly cars you find equally in the Chalmers.

In either case you have profited by investigating.

REO SPEED WAGON FINDS NEW FIELD

San Diego Pharmacist Fits Car With Drug Stock and Tours State

"It is difficult to surmise in what new field the Reo 'speed wagon' will be found next," says Harry White, of the Harry E. White, Inc., local Reo distributors.

"In addition to the various vocations in which the 'speed wagon' is used—and there are 263 different lines of business in which 'speed wagons' are now serving—it is also being utilized for many unique purposes.

"It remained, however, for a druggist, D. S. Lacey of San Diego, Cal., to put the 'speed wagon' to work as a completely equipped and well-stocked drug store. The amount of good and the service rendered by this speed wagon in carrying medicine and medicinal supplies to the remote sections of Southern California cannot be estimated.

"Mr. Lacey has just returned from a 1700 mile tour of California, having visited most of the resorts in the southern and central portions of the state. He reports that his 'speed wagon' gave him absolutely no engine or tire trouble and his total repair bills amounted to only 75c."

STUDEBAKER SALE BIG DURING 1922

Packer Auto Company, Local Dealers, Report Very Successful Year

Studebaker sales in Glendale and vicinity during the past year, and especially during December and Christmas week, surpassed all expectations of the Packer Auto company, local Studebaker distributors, according to a statement made yesterday by Don Packer.

"Sales during 1922 held up wonderfully," he said. "We not only made a number of new friends for the Studebaker car, and for ourselves, but we also had the pleasure of selling a great many cars to old customers."

Repeat sales, Mr. Packer believes, is the best endorsement that a car can possibly get from the operator. Indication that the Studebaker industry as a whole enjoyed a successful 1922 season is borne out by the following statistics:

"During 1922 Studebaker built and sold 110,000 cars valued at $130,000,000. This is a sixty-five per cent increase over 1921—the biggest previous year in Studebaker history."

MOON SPORT CAR NOW IN GLENDALE

New Six-40 Model Is Being Displayed at Agency of Local Dealer

The W. R. Naylor Motor company, handlers of the Moon car, is showing the new Six-40 Moon sport touring model at its local salesroom, 120 South Maryland avenue. In inviting Glendale motorists to drop into his salesroom for a look at the new model, Mr. Naylor says:

"The distinctive beauty of Moon cars is accentuated in this Moon sport touring—a dashing, snappy admiration that commands the quick admiration of all lovers of sport. Along winding country roads—out at the game—at the country club—or in the crowded streets of the cities—with this car, contentment and satisfaction are yours."

"It gleams from silver radiator to body rails and trunk. It has power for real bursts of speed. Once you sit at the wheel you'll realize how truly it is a playmate for the great outdoors."

"Nickel head lamps. Nickel cowl lamp. Nickel tail lamp. Nickel windshield. Polished aluminum body rails—trunk rack and trunk. Six Distel wheels, two mounted at front. Khaki top. Leather and body in distinctive Moon sport color with two-line stripe. Aluminum step plates with rubber pads."

"One must see this new Six-40 Sport Car to appreciate its rare beauty. You must ride in it to feel the thrill of its quick responsiveness."

NASH SALES

For the first ten months of 1922, show a gain of 95% over the same period of 1921. Nash gained 8% in September over August while the rest of the industry, excepting Ford, fell off 24%.

Significant facts. No man will deny that they show clearly the handwriting on the wall. Year after year, month after month, sees Nash Motors entrenched more firmly among the industry's greatest successes. Can you point to any car that has enjoyed so rapid a growth on so sound a basis? Is there a car in the Nash price field today that approaches it in actual value for the money asked?

Is there another car in the Nash class that lists today at $55 under its 1917 price?

One Nash owner referring to the factory's ability to build and market so splendid a product as the 691 at $1,240 f.o.b. factory, asked a distributor: "How do they do it?" The distributor smiled. "If you will go to Kenosha with me some day I'll show you," he said.

Bryson G. Allan Appointed Selling Manager for C. L. Smith

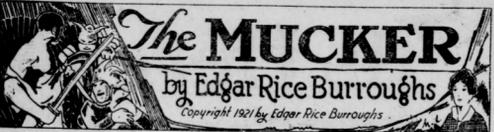

Bryson G. Allan, prominent in California automobile circles as a sales manager of rare ability, has been appointed to the position of sales manager for C. L. Smith, local Chevrolet distributor.

In making the foregoing announcement yesterday, Mr. Smith said that he deemed himself most lucky to obtain the services of Mr. Allan, who has a wide following in the automobile business. He said also that Mr. Allan's refreshing personality, together with his ability to furnish the trade with unlimited data on automobile buying, is bound to win him many friends in Glendale.

Previous to joining the C. L. Smith sales staff, Mr. Allan was for three years associated with the C. S. Motor Supply, Chevrolet distributors, of Pasadena.

Mr. Allan states that he intends to take up a residence in Glendale in the very near future. "I like Glendale and its people, and I propose to move over here just as soon as I can wind up some business in Pasadena," he said.

"It is odd," he said, "how our viewpoints change with changed environment and the passing of the years. Time was, Billy, when I'd have hated you as much as you would have hated me. I don't know that I should have said that for that is not exactly the word. It was more contempt that I felt for men whom I considered as not belonging upon that intellectual or social plane to which I considered I had been born.

"I thought of people who moved outside my limited sphere as 'the great unwashed.' I pitied them, and I honestly believe now that in the bottom of my heart I considered them of different class than I, and with souls, if they possessed such things, about on a par with the souls of sheep and cows.

"I couldn't have seen the man in you, Billy, then, any more than you could have seen the man in me. I have learned much since then, though I still stick to a part of my original articles of faith—I do believe that all men are not equal; and I know that there are a great many more with whom I would not pal than there are those with whom I would.

"Because one man speaks better English than another, or has read more and remembers it, only makes him a better man in that particular respect. I think none the less of you because you can't quote Browning or Shakespeare—the thing that counts is that you can appreciate and Knibbs.

"Now maybe we are both wrong—maybe Knibbs and Kipling and Service didn't write poetry, and some people will say as much; but whatever it is it gets you and me in the same way, and so in this respect we are equals. Which being the case let's see if we can't rustle some grub, and then find a nice soft spot whereupon to pound our respective ears."

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—David M. Church, London correspondent, quotes George Bernard Shaw as declaring that world events, in traveling their customary "vicious circle," are tending toward tyranny again.

MONDAY—William G. Cayce, correspondent at Los Angeles, reveals interesting results of the Wright prohibition enforcement act, adopted at the last election by the people of California.

For International News Service, LONDON, Dec. 30.—"Every body is tired of democracy," says George Bernard Shaw, who declares that the world is always traveling in a vicious circle and is now again tending towards a period of tyranny.

"We have arrived at a strange point in the history of Europe," Shaw says. "Consider the teachings of history. First oligarchy, then democracy, then tyranny, then a threat of the breakdown of civilization. Then, again, oligarchy, and democracy, and tyranny, combined with a large proletariat maintained by doles. The vicious circle is coming around again. Women got the vote, and the immediate result was the disastrous election in 1918.

"What are we going to do about it? Can we avoid these intolerable follies? Can we get a good government by the system described? Democracy as a government of the people, by the people, for the people. That is all nonsense. To talk of the people making their own laws is as preposterous as talking of the people writing their own plays, which nobody would go to see.

"People don't want to be governed. The reason why we are slaves in this country is because we are so desperately determined to get rid of the government which is necessary to preserve our freedom. A new government is taking hold in Great Britain. Do you think that the people will consent to the rule of a Ministry consists of people who know nothing whatever about it. We are again drifting towards an oligarchy, set up for five years. It is not satisfactory. It is no good.

"What is the answer? I can give only one. I don't know. I do not believe that democracy, as at present constituted, will endure."

Great Britain is long on museums and antiques are cherished, but it took the Sunday Express, ardent supporter of Bonar Law, to turn up the history of the most unique of antiques. The Express at some expense discovered the first pair of trousers, ever worn by the Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law. These historic trousers, the Express states with all probability that Lloyd George will make a lecture trip to America in the Spring or Summer. His secretaries are making inquiries concerning the possibilities of an American lecture tour. It is whispered that the little Welshman has suddenly awakened to a realization of the ease with which a famous man can extract American dollars, or maybe it is his staff that has made the discovery. At any rate, American audiences may soon have the opportunity of hearing this brilliant and fiery little orator, who is still the idol of England, even though he is out of power.

The antenna system itself constitutes the capacitance, and also a portion of the inductance; however, it is necessary to provide additional inductance, as the antenna does not contain a sufficient amount of inductance. Mr. Walters went on to explain that Sparr Heights is but near to the center of Los Angeles as the mid point of Hollywood, and located amid a terrain of scenic beauty unsurpassed anywhere in the west, in a high, clear valley noted for its medicinal breezes and uniform temperature.

"Sparr Heights," he said, "is one of the last great undeveloped suburbs of our mother city. When we say they cannot be equalled, we mean it and know it."

suits, forty-six were killed. This shows farming to be almost as dangerous as mining in California, which will be surprising to many, who have looked upon farming as one of the safest and most profitable of the most perilous pursuits.

London landlords have frequently raised the ban against children, but now they threaten to extend the ban to radio outlets. The St. Pancras Estates Committee recommends that applications from tenants shall specifically state that the tenants will not install any wireless apparatus. The committee states that it has taken this action on the advice of insurance experts, who charge that amateur radio fittings may cause fire.

Bolshevism is due to bad teaching, at least that is the theory of Major Charles Houston, one of London's leading men in the dental world. "I have never seen a Bolshevik with other than bad teeth," he said. Proper care of the teeth obviates mental explosions which cause bolshevism, he said.

"Let no one be beyond ye threshold words uttered here in friendly confidence"—this injunction is printed in old English characters over the inner door of the new town house of Lloyd George, and perhaps it is not at all inappropriate, for in this Chelsea house are numerous meetings and conferences, all with the object of getting Lloyd George back into power.

Uncle Wiggily and Beckie's Doll

Beckie Stubbail, the little girl nurse to hold my dollie," laughed Becky softly, "and I can sweep and dust."

"So the little girl began to sweep the bungalow, which Nurse Jane would have done had she found time. I don't want you to get a wrong idea about Nurse Jane, you see.

All of a sudden, as Beckie went out in the yard, emptying the dustpan, along came the old Blackcat again—a bad animal, like a big weasel and very hungry for cats to nibble at.

"Ah ha!" said the Blackcat to himself as he neared Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. "The door is open I see. I'll sneak in and nibble his ears."

So in went Blackcat. He saw Uncle Wiggily sitting in the corner asleep and holding the doll. But because Uncle Wiggily had put the sunbonnet and the apron and looked like a nurse girl rabbit, the Blackcat didn't know the bunny.

"Oh, I guess I've made a mistake," said the bad chap.

"Oh, I guess I've made a mistake," said the bad chap. "I got in the wrong bungalow by mistake. I'll go out before this nurse lady rabbit sees me and mayhap pull my tail." Out went Blackcat, and he met the Fuzzy Fox, Beckie, hiding behind the hedge, heard what they said.

"No use going in there to nibble ears," said Blackcat to the Fox. "Uncle Wiggily isn't there. It's only a nurse maid with a baby."

"Oh, shucks!" cried the Fox. Then the bad chaps went off together, wondering where Uncle Wiggily was and Beckie was very glad she had put the sunbonnet and apron on Uncle Wiggily. And when the bunny awakened and found himself holding Beckie's doll, all dressed up in that funny way, he had to laugh himself.

But it all happened for the best, didn't it? And if the axe doesn't try to jump over the woodpile and bump the teakettle on the nose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and his New Year's call. And before I forget it I wish you all a very Happy New Year!

APPARATUS AND DEVICES
By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

ARC TRANSMITTERS

A direct current arc transmitter is constituted of three essential parts; namely, the source of energy, the arc converter and the oscillatory circuit.

For a source of supply a direct current giving a potential of from 200 to 1200 volts is utilized to provide energy for the arc transmitter, the required potential depending upon the size of the transmitter. This supply is obtained either from a motor generator, if outside electric power is available; if not, from a dynamo energized by some form of engine. Power control is obtained in the ordinary way by means of a field rheostat.

It has been demonstrated a d. c. arc contained in a hydrogen atmosphere makes a most efficient generator of high frequency oscillatory currents. As used, today by the Federal Telegraph company, the arc converter consists of two electrodes between which the arc burns, one made of copper and the other of carbon. The electrodes are placed in a strong transverse magnetic field and the whole placed in a metallic chamber containing the hydrogen atmosphere. In order that the copper electrode and arc chamber will not be overheated by the arc, these parts are cooled by a water system similar to that used for cooling gas engine cylinders. The output of the arc is then delivered to the oscillatory circuit, which consists of an inductance and a capacitance.

The antenna system itself constitutes the capacitance, and also a portion of the inductance; however, it is necessary to provide additional inductance, as the antenna does not contain a sufficient amount of inductance. The extra coil provided is termed the "antenna inductor." As in other forms of radio, it is by changing this antenna inductance that the wave length radiated may be adjusted to the desired value.

RECEIVING ANTENNA PROTECTIVE DEVICES

These devices are standard units supplied with R. C. receiving antenna outfits. However, they may be used satisfactorily with any other type of receiving antenna equipment. Their purpose is to supply a means for protecting the receiving station as well as the building in which it is located from any serious effects which might be caused by lightning.

They Say That

A hopeful word comes from the industrial accident commission of California, to the effect that the number of deaths from accidents in industries is decreasing. In 1921 the number killed was 550, as compared with 592 in 1920. This is but a slight decrease, it is true. The number is starting enough, even with this decrease. It is interesting to note the industries which contributed the greatest number of fatal accidents. Railroadings led, with ninety-eight deaths—nearly one-fifth of the total number. With all that has been done to safeguard railroading, it is yet a hazardous occupation—more hazardous than it should be. Ninety were killed in construction work, seventy-eight in manufacturing, seventy in public utilities, fifty-three in mining, quarrying and oil production—a very favorable showing for the mining industry which ordinarily is classed as being very dangerous. In agricultural pur-

NEW SUBDIVISION LOOKS TO FUTURE

Sparr Heights Operator Says Verdugo Hills Site to Be Big Community

Firm belief that the first step in a subdivision should be to anticipate the future and meet it with the solid dollars and cents argument of construction, letting the evidence take the place of mere words, was expressed yesterday by M. Walters, of Francis, Barnum, Walters Co., creators of Sparr Heights.

"This was the idea that enabled us recently to dedicate the Community Center Building," he said. "Such a structure is auto evidence that our vision of a great community of 40,000 in that amphitheatre of Verdugo hills is backed by our faith and our fortunes. And if further evidence were wanted, it would be in the fact that our Fire Unit is practically closed out and the Second Unit, comprising choice hillside homesites, is now open. We are here to stay, and not birds of passage."

Is Near L. A.

Mr. Walters went on to explain that Sparr Heights is but near to the center of Los Angeles as the mid point of Hollywood, and located amid a terrain of scenic beauty unsurpassed anywhere in the west, in a high, clear valley noted for its medicinal breezes and uniform temperature.

"Sparr Heights," he said, "is one of the last great undeveloped suburbs of our mother city. THE OLD AND NEW

Old Year, Good-Bye; for we the New must greet, And you those that have gone before will meet; Twelve months together over life's winding way We've traveled homeward sad or gay. Your journey is ended, ours may not be, No doubt 'tis better the future we cannot see, But this we know, if we must travel on We cannot have again the years already gone.

We must welcome then the New with joy and cheer, Wishing for each other the best throughout the year; Our failures and mistakes are with the years gone by, We cannot carry them over, tho' hard we try.

Opportunity is before us as we welcome now the New Success is sure to come, perhaps to but a few, But let us do our best and be one of those who win, While others stay upon the outside, let's dig until we're in.

Then perhaps the New will prove better than the Old, And clouds have silver linings, or maybe gold, Then the birds will sing more sweetly and the flowers be more bright, So let's buckle on the armor and not give up the fight.

Members of both leagues will compose the party making the trip. At the service last Sunday night the young people enjoyed a candle light service with Miss Jennie Lacey reading "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke. A special New Year service will be held tomorrow evening.

Holiday Outing An ideal holiday outing on Catalina Island has been enjoyed by a party of Glendale people, including Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. The time was spent golfing, swimming and horseback riding, and they state that the weather was ideal and the ocean trip to and from the island most enjoyable.

K. of C. Dance There were 300 persons included in the company that enjoyed last night the first dance given by the Knights of Columbus in their new clubhouse at 230 East Lomita avenue. M. J. Brennan in charge of the affair and officers and members of the chapter were greatly gratified over the fine attendance and made every effort to make the evening one of pleasure. The clubhouse was decorated in green and gold for the dance. The newly-organized Knights of Columbus orchestra furnished the music and Grand Knight Harry Girard was master of ceremonies. The Knights are planning to have two dances each month.

Birthday Party Mr. and Mrs. Harry James were hosts last night at their home at 1560 East Wilson avenue at an informal social affair in celebration of Mr. James' birthday. THEATRES

The Glendale "Big Bill" Russell never justified his nickname more fully than in "Strength of the Pines," the picture now playing at the Glendale Theatre. The bigness and stirring action of this heroic film, laid in the pristine forests of northern Oregon, fairly take one's breath away. In addition, five exceptional acts of vaudeville are on the boards at the Glendale Theatre today, announces Manager William Howe. The headliners are the Misses Arnet, Landon and Martyn, well-known vocal trio, in "Musical Numbers." Boston and Vaughn are described as "The International Cut-Ups." Long and Jackson present their funny act, "The Time Table." Vyvyan and Kastner offer "Singing and Talking Impersonations." And Stanley, Gallini and Company offer "Shadow Smiles in Colors," a quaint entertainment conception.

The T. D. & L. "Shattered Idols," the J. L. Frothingham, all-star picture now showing at the T. D. & L. Theatre, thrills with big moments, awes with spectacular scenes, vibrates with poignant heart interest, inspires with its wonderful revelation of manhood, and glimmers with the sheen and mysticism that have made India a brooding, obscure, romantic country. Manager Ralph Allan announces for Sunday and Monday the classic, "Omar The Tentmaker," written and produced by Richard Walton Tully, from the famous Persian poem, "The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," translated into English by Fitzgerald. The director of this film masterpiece is James Young, creator of many a fine film. And on Tuesday comes Mary Pickford in her new film version of "Tess of the Storm Country."

SOCIAL EVENT S

Social Gathering The members and friends of the Broadway Methodist church held an enjoyable social gathering in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church on Broadway and Cedar streets on Thursday evening. As the congregation had only been organized three weeks the meeting was conducted as a "get together" affair, and its object was satisfactorily accomplished. The first part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted and general conversation among those present. Following this Rev. D. M. Barr, the pastor of the newly organized church, made a short address, telling of the purpose for which the meeting had been called and of the outlook of his work in this city. Rev. Barr then called on J. N. McGillis, who has been instrumental in organizing the church, for a brief history of the establishing of the congregation. Mr. McGillis responded by stating that the movement was begun more than two years ago when he held a conference with Bishop du Bose in Phoenix, Ariz. Upon learning that the Presbyterians in Glendale were planning to move their place of worship to the western part of town the bishop immediately started negotiations with Rev. Edmonds for the purchase of the edifice, which is now being shared by the two congregations. Until next October the Methodists will hold their Sunday services in the afternoon. Following a talk by Mrs. D. M. Barr, who spoke in behalf of the women of the church, several courses of dainty refreshments were served by the young people's class.

Holiday Party The home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Miller of 434 West Burchett street was the scene of a gay affair on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Miller entertained a number of children at a holiday party in honor of her three children, Jean, Barbara and Blaine. More than a dozen and a half of the little tots were present with their mothers, who were former school girl companions of Mrs. Miller. The house was attractively decorated in red, which is always a favorite with the children. The dining room table contained a huge "Jack Horner" pie, with dainty red ribbons being attached and running to each individual place. Upon pulling the ribbons the tiny guests were surprised to find presents attached to the other end. The refreshments, which consisted of ice cream and cake, were accompanied by prettily arranged tokens, red balloons, hats and other trinkets. The kiddies' guest list was as follows: Gloria Johnson and Frank Parkhurst of Los Angeles; Jackie Lee Larimore of Pomona; Helen Bryant, Jerome Bryant, Martha Bryant and Robert Bryant, all of Sawtelle; and Beverly Whitaker, Ephie Bryant, Lorraine Bryant, Betty Marple, Harry Marple, Rosemary Boody, Wayne Smith, Eileen Carlock and Lenore Wiebe. The "grown-ups" present were Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Helen Ames, Miss Nell Miller and Miss Blanche Pierce of Los Angeles, Mrs. Yana Larimore of Pomona; Mrs. Jerome Bryant of Sawtelle, and the following Glendale women: Mrs. Oscar Whitaker, Mrs. Harry Marple, Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mrs. Marjorie Bryant and Miss Fern Peters.

Entertain Friends The hospitality of the Roy L. Kent home at 522 North Central Central avenue was extended to two groups of guests last night when Mr. and Mrs. Kent entertained a company of friends at a 6 o'clock dinner and their son Wesley entertained his Sunday school class of the First Baptist church. For the dinner table decoration a large bouquet of poinsettias was used and holiday place cards marked the places. The dinner guests were Rev. and Mrs. Ernest E. Ford, Mrs. Jennie B. Dossas, Miss Beatrice Dossas, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wormer and daughter Betty. Later in the evening this company was joined by the thirteen members of Wesley's Sunday school class and the teacher, Philip Henderson. Music and games entertained and late in the evening the boys enjoyed a luncheon.

Luncheon Party Mr. and Mrs. George A. Montgomery of 500 Kenneth Road entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Clark of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. C. C. Crandall of Glendale. After lunch the Montgomerys and their guests motored to the Sunset Country club for the afternoon. Both Mr. Montgomery and Mr. Clark are members of the club. Mr. Clark is one of the pioneer residents of Greeley, Colo., and prominent in political affairs. He and Mrs. Clark are greatly impressed with Glendale and hope to locate here.

Discuss Plans for S. P. Spur Tracks A spur track through the city's new commercial property at the foot of Grand View avenue was the subject of a conference this morning between City Manager W. H. Reeves and Charles R. Smurr, industrial agent for the Southern Pacific. So many applications for leases have been received by the city, according to Mr. Reeves, that it is essential that a drill track be installed at once.

Yesterday, Dec. 29th, the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company began to function as such. The Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia has been operating as an independent organization for several months. This separation of the two companies can result in nothing but good to each. The Trust Company is doing a very large business and the Life Insurance Company has had one of the best years in its history.

With a death-rate this year of only 40% of the expected, and with its expenses and taxes materially reduced by reason of the segregation, no Company in America will equal it in service and low net-cost.

Floats desiring to enter the park and remain there until traffic congestion makes it easier to travel.

By this system the parade passes over a gigantic S-shaped route in the heart of the business district.

All those actively in the parade on floats or as outwalkers or out-riders, are given tickets to the Rose Bowl to witness the football game in the afternoon. They thus become guests of the Tournament of Roses Association, following a custom of many years standing.

The predominant flowers to be used in the pageant this year are roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, stocks, poinsettias, violets and lilies.

The principal streets to be decorated are Colorado street from Orange Grove to Wilson, Fair Oaks from Holly to Dayton, Raymond from Dayton to Holly. All the electric trolley wires on these streets will be trimmed as follows: on each cross wire, there will be two large American flags at the sides flanking two smaller flags for each of the colleges done in the college colors and in the center will be a large flag lettered alternately on both sides—U. S. C. and Penn State with suitable football decoration. These center flags will have tasseled and painted fringes.

Over 200 electrolights along the route of the parade will be incased with novelty trimmings and American flags set off from palm fronds. There will be one set of American colors and one set of football colors to each of these electrolights. The colors of Penn State are Navy Blue and White, and those of the U. S. C. team are Cardinal Red and Gold.

At the Rose Bowl the college boxes will be decorated with the colors of the two teams, one set of goal posts to be done in U. S.

colors and the other in Penn State colors.

Autoists are urged to drive to the free parking space on city-owned land adjoining the Rose Bowl. There is room for many thousand automobiles parked under police supervision.

There will be six roads leading down to the Rose Bowl in the Arroyo Seco. This is three more roads than have been in use prior to the January 1 game.

Walter Raymond, who has for years had charge of this work, is this year as usual chairman of the Street Decorations Committee.

Entrance to the Rose Bowl will be permitted at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The game will probably start at 2:15 o'clock.

There is no entertainment feature planned at the Bowl except the football game.

THREAT TO TAKE REALTY LICENSES

State Commissioner's Report Says Many Agents to Be Denied Permits

Several hundred real estate agents in California will be denied licenses January 1, 1923, because they have not posted signs stating they are in the real estate business, according to an ultimatum delivered by Edwin T. Keiser, state real estate commissioner, in his office at Los Angeles.

According to a statement issued by the news department of the California Real Estate association, the department issued more than 37,000 realty licenses during this year.

"This statement is a warning," said Mr. Keiser, "to the numerous licensed real estate brokers who do not want the public to know that they are in business."

Mr. Keiser went on to explain that the dealers in real estate are in most cases in some other business and deal in real estate as a side line, which, in many cases, nets them as much money as the real business. They use their deals with the unsuspecting customer of their other business and usually camouflage their transactions as "a personal favor to a friend."

Protect Home Seekers
Because of the numerous small real estate deals transacted in southern California and the type of people who are parties in the deals, home seekers who are ignorant of the ways business in land is done, this part of the state is a very favorable spot for such dealers, according to the commissioner in this part of the state, and at least that many will be denied new licenses, as the state law requires that a sign be posted.

The chapter of the California statutes governing the state real estate department contains section 11a, providing that: Each individual, firm or corporation licensed as a broker under the provisions of this act shall erect or maintain a sign on the premises wherein is located his place of business on which shall be plainly stated that he is a real estate broker.

Writers Invited to L. A. Club's Meet

Mrs. Ewell Lee, of 728 North Brand boulevard, secretary of the Story Writers' club of Los Angeles, has issued an informal invitation to Glendale writers or those interested in literary pursuits to attend meetings of the club every Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in Literary hall, 435 Music-Arts studio, 233 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

There is no admission charge at these meetings. Concerning their programs Mrs. Lee says, "In addition to having a prominent author as a speaker, original stories, scenarios, poems and plays are read and criticized. The club is composed of many successful writers and students. Capt. Leslie T. Peacock is president and such authors as H. H. Van Loan, Jim Tully, Carl Bronson and others have appeared before the club with lectures of their experiences, advice and suggestions."

Attack Grocer and Place Strange Mark

SEATTLE, Dec. 30.—Assaulted by mysterious foes who have been terrorizing him for weeks, and believed by his wife to be agents of the Ku Klux Klan, which he has refused to join after repeated threats and urgings, George Clements, 29, a grocer, was found slugged, unconscious and branded with a mysterious symbol. The symbol is a white cross in a circle cut into his upper left arm with a sharp knife.

Clements' grocery store was burned on Thursday under circumstances indicating incendiarism. On December 15 a revolver was stolen from his home, and a threatening note left by the burglars. November 14 he was slugged and robbed in his store.

Clements told incoherently of being kidnaped and carried through town in an automobile at the point of revolvers.

Near East Nearer Home Golf Gets 'Em Going Know Facts About State New Year Starts Monday

By Gil A. Cowan

THE Near East comes a little nearer home in the headlines of the paper with a new war threatening to engulf the world powers who seek to keep peace at the Dardanelles.

With Russia constantly aligning itself on the side of the unspeakable Turk there is presented the spectre of more bloodshed because of national aspirations.

In that Americans can not alone blame the Turk, the Russian, or the Frenchman or the imperial British. All share in ambitions for territory or trade, even to the point of pushing America from the seas, making Christians martyr, confiscating capital and otherwise doing those things which are bound to create strife.

For why—for why—for why? An ancient question that for the lust of power has ever been the besetting sin of humans. Truly, the survival of the fittest, by fair means or foul, seems to sway nations so that even an altruistic plan for world peace is butchered in its final terms which no thinking person could accept as a solution.

During the late world war many near-prophets declared the Armageddon was being fought in the fields of Flanders. No such luck. That battle is being fought individually by people, collectively by nations, in the daily grind of greed for power, the weaker go down to defeat, broken in body and spirit.

If you do not believe this is true, just step out into the world of affairs, away from your little rut, and start something!

Have you the golf bug? Only 10,000 Americans are being recruited to the Scotch shepherd's game each week, it is authoritatively stated by a man who is starting a golf ball factory in Glendale.

Yes, and there are only 2,750,000 players now consuming 60,000 balls each week, which is some consumption.

In fact, it is the first we had heard of golf consumption, but doctors advise the game as a great little worry reducer.

As one novice expressed it, "I get so god dinged mad at the ball trying to put it across the green and into the hole—that I forget whether I am selling Lincolns or Lincoln pups."

He is only typical of the near three million others who are spending $34,000,000 in the pastime for clubs, country clubs, courses and balls.

Evidently it is only proper for every city to have its own green where the goats may gambol, or the golfers golf.

It is the duty of every Californian in whose home a tourist is stopping this season to be informed as to facts about this wondrous section. Pure, unadulterated truths will do more to boost this part of the state than all of the exaggerations to be found in an encyclopedia of misinformation.

It is true that Los Angeles has one of the most rapidly developing ports of entry in the world, although San Francisco and Seattle with years of history back of them still maintain a lead which is fast being overtaken.

It is true that Southern California is developing more rapidly than any other residential section of the country in the matter of population and building.

It is true that the San Joaquin valley is one of the most fertile spots in the world, if water may be obtained and where it is there are crops unrivaled.

It is true that grape fruit grown in the Imperial Valley is the best money can buy; that cotton growers have made money this year; that vegetables are earlier in season and higher in price than elsewhere.

It is true that there are drawbacks to this great country of ours, but compared with other sections, California leads the world in diversity of climate, crops, mineral products, etc.

The state could well afford to establish an intelligence bureau for the dissemination of accurate information which would once and for all establish the facts without them being handed the tourist in a Chamber of Commerce circular, for some communities make such grandiose assertions people have placed a discount on propaganda and have come to believe only pictures and figures.

New Year's Eve comes tomorrow night on Sunday. Well, we'll all start together on Blue Monday wishing everybody well, at least.

Lyman P. Clark, Retiring Leader, Presented With Gold Lapel Button

Glendale Kiwanians today are extending congratulations to A. L. Ferguson of 525 North Jackson street, their new president.

The election fever ran high yesterday noon in the Broadway Inn at the annual business meeting of the Glendale Kiwanis club. Enthusiasm and pep were very evident by their presence. The luncheon hour was divided between songs, short speeches, fried chicken and counting ballots.

Lyman P. Clark of 124 West Colorado street was presented with a gold lapel button bearing the club's insignia as a token of appreciation for his services as first president of the local club.

Extends Congratulations
A. L. Baird of 130 South Brand boulevard, who was defeated for the presidency by only seven votes, was one of the first to congratulate the club's new president.

A determination to devote his attention to the best interest of the club was expressed by Mr. Ferguson. He called attention to the difficulty of any succeeding president filling the presidency as efficiently as Mr. Clark.

The new board of directors now consists of M. B. Towman, O. W. Andresen, Ray Bentley, Dr. Jack Anderson, Harry MacBain, W. H. Reeves and Bert Perry.

Other officers were elected unanimously with sixty-six votes as follows: Herman Nelson, first vice-president; Dr. T. C. Young, second vice-president; D. H. Smith, treasurer, and Fred Deal, district trustee.

Appreciates Honor
"I appreciate the honor of being selected as president of the Kiwanis club," asserted Mr. Ferguson following his election.

"In the short period of time that the club has been organized it has demonstrated the fact that it is and will be a vital factor in Glendale community life. The influence of the club has reached far beyond immediate membership for there has been a decided spirit of co-operation with other organizations to promote all worthy movements and also to initiate new activities.

"Too much credit cannot be given to the retiring president, Lyman P. Clark, who has done much of the difficult pioneer work. If the officers for the next year can report at the end of their term as much progress as those retiring, we may look forward to great things for the Kiwanis Club of Glendale."

MINOR OPERATION
A minor operation was performed this morning at the Glendale Research Hospital upon Mrs. Lela Loomis of 1718 Gloriotta avenue.

RETURNS TO HOME
Mrs. George Stands of 1023 East Lomita avenue returned to her home yesterday following an operation at the Glendale Research Hospital.

Money spent in Glendale helps to make Glendale a bigger and better city.

Police Raid Dugout Arrest 10 in Flight

DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 30.—Sheriff Timm and a posse of citizens raided an alleged bootlegging plant housed in a concrete dugout southeast of Westville, arrested ten men after a pistol battle, and seized fifty gallons of whisky, 1000 gallons of wine and a 150 gallon still.

The sheriff and his men entered the dugout by blasting a hole in the concrete wall with dynamite. Electric alarms fitted in the dugout failed to warn its occupants.
